GameBoy Advance & GameBoy Color Debug/Development Kit

Genuine Development System - Made by Nintendo for Game Publishers

GBADevKit-7.jpg

click on photos to enlarge!

Genuine GameBoy Advance & GameBoy Color Debug/Development Kit, made by Nintendo exclusively for game publishers and developers. As far as I can tell, this unit appears to be fairly complete. The Debug Unit was made by Intelligent Systems, Co., the division of Nintendo which handles the manufacturing of development hardware. I unfortunately do not have enough knowledge of game development kits to fully test it, however I can confirm that the unit itself and the test GameBoy Advance and GameBoy Color units (which are powered by the unit) also all turn on without any issues. This set was obtained from a former game developer and has been very well cared-for, so I expect that it should work without any problems.

Includes the following:

Debug/Capture Unit

GameBoy Advance Debug System Setup Manual

GameBoy Advance Test Unit - does not use batteries, but runs off the power of the main debug unit through wires that run from where the battery compartment would normally be found

GameBoy Color Test Unit - works as the GBA Test Unit does, through the power of the main debug unit

GameBoy Advance Test Probe Cartridge - as shown inside the Test GBA unit in these photos. Cartridge can be detached and removed from unit.

GameBoy Color Test Probe Cartridge - like the GBA Test Probe Cartridge, this can be detached and removed from unit.

32M Flash Cartridge - genuine Nintendo-made flash cartridge for GameBoy Color

Seven Nintendo CD-ROM Discs - AGB Capture disc, AGB Developer ToolKit disc, various CGB Debugger revision discs
